

The Funni Farm Product Traceability Policy

Effective Date: January 1, 2026

Purpose

The Funni Farm maintains product traceability procedures to help identify ingredients, production batches, and finished products throughout normal business operations.

Batch Identification

Finished products are assigned a batch or lot number whenever applicable to assist with quality assurance and customer support.

Production Records

We maintain production records, ingredient information, and related documentation to support consistency and traceability.

Customer Assistance

Customers requesting information about a product should provide the batch or lot number from the package whenever possible.

Quality Reviews

Traceability information may be used during quality investigations, customer inquiries, or product reviews.

Continuous Improvement

We periodically review our traceability practices and update procedures as our business grows and regulatory expectations evolve.
