

The Funni Farm Recall & Incident Response Policy

Effective Date: January 1, 2026

Purpose

The Funni Farm is committed to responding promptly to any product quality or safety concern affecting our customers.

Reporting a Concern

Customers should contact us immediately if they believe a product may be defective, contaminated, mislabeled, or otherwise unsafe. Please include your order number, batch or lot number, photographs, and a description of the concern.

Product Investigation

Each reported concern will be reviewed and documented. We may request additional information or ask that the product be returned for evaluation.

Corrective Actions

Depending on the findings, corrective actions may include customer notifications, product replacement, refunds, voluntary recalls, manufacturing changes, or other appropriate measures.

Batch Identification

Batch and lot numbers help us identify affected products quickly. Customers are encouraged to retain original packaging until the product has been consumed.

Regulatory Cooperation

When required, The Funni Farm will cooperate with applicable regulatory authorities regarding product investigations or recalls.

Customer Notification

If a recall or safety notice affects products you purchased and contact information is available, we will make reasonable efforts to notify affected customers.
