

The Funni Farm Responsible Use Guide

Effective Date: January 1, 2026

Our Philosophy

The Funni Farm encourages customers to use hemp-derived products responsibly and according to all product labeling.

Start Low

If you are new to hemp-derived products, begin with the labeled serving size and allow sufficient time before considering additional use.

Know Your Limits

Individual responses vary based on body chemistry, experience, and other factors. Always use products responsibly.

Mixing With Other Substances

Consult a qualified healthcare professional before combining hemp-derived products with alcohol, medications, or dietary supplements.

Storage

Store products in their original packaging in a cool, dry location away from direct sunlight. Keep products secured from children and pets.

Travel

Before traveling, verify that hemp-derived products are legal at your destination. Laws vary by state and locality.

Questions

If you have questions about product ingredients, serving information, or Certificates of Analysis (COAs), contact The Funni Farm before use.
