

The Funni Farm Subscription Policy

Effective Date: January 1, 2026

Enrollment

Customers who enroll in an optional subscription authorize recurring shipments and recurring charges according to the plan selected at checkout.

Billing

Subscription payments are charged automatically using the payment method on file before each scheduled shipment.

Managing Your Subscription

Customers may update payment information, shipping addresses, pause, or cancel subscriptions through their account or by contacting us before the next billing date.

Price Changes

If subscription pricing changes, the updated price will apply to future renewals after notice is provided where required by law.

Availability

Subscription products remain subject to availability. If an item is unavailable, we may delay, substitute with your consent, or cancel the shipment.

Cancellation

Subscriptions may be canceled before the next billing cycle. Charges already processed for an upcoming shipment may not be reversible once fulfillment has begun.
