

The Funni Farm - Frequently Asked Questions

Effective Date: January 1, 2026

Are your products lab tested?

Yes. We use independent third-party laboratory testing for our hemp-derived products. Certificates of Analysis (COAs) are available when applicable.

How do I find my product's COA?

Use the QR code on the package when available, visit the product page, or contact us with the batch or lot number.

Where do you ship?

We ship only to locations where our hemp-derived products may legally be delivered.

How long does shipping take?

Orders are generally processed within 1–3 business days. Delivery times vary by carrier and destination.

Can I return gummies?

Because edible hemp-derived products are consumable, they are generally final sale unless damaged, defective, or shipped in error.

How should I store my products?

Store products in a cool, dry place away from direct sunlight, heat, moisture, children, and pets.

Are your products FDA approved?

No. The FDA has not evaluated statements regarding our hemp-derived products, and they are not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any disease.
